GOD'S TIME

We either pay attention to or ignore "clock time" as we play in the summer sun and note the earth's tilt and the lengthening days. We live by time. We reckon time in seconds and minutes and hours, or we use broader chunks like suppertime and summertime.

God keeps another sort of time. God speaks to us of "saving time," that is, the time of salvation. This sense of time is called kairos, and this time is always now, always present and available, always revealing, often surprising.

This Sunday's readings alert us to the reality and the import of God's time. Ezekiel and the Gospel of Mark remind us that our labor and our plotting and our planning rest in God. For God takes our smallest efforts and makes of them great works. Paul points us to the "harvest" time, urges us to be watchful for its coming, and calls us to recognize that we must spend our time pleasing God.

EL TIEMPO DE DIOS

O le ponemos atención o ignoramos "la hora del reloj", cuando jugamos en el sol del verano y notamos la inclinación de la Tierra y la prolongación de los días. Vivimos en el tiempo. Marcamos el tiempo en segundos, minutos y horas, o hablamos de segmentos más largos como la hora de la cena o el verano.

Dios marca el tiempo de otra manera. Dios nos habla de "ahorrar tiempo", es decir, el tiempo de la salvación. Este sentido del tiempo se llama kairos, y esta vez es siempre ahora, siempre presente y disponible, siempre revelador. A menudo sorprendente.

Las lecturas de este domingo nos alertan sobre la realidad y la importancia del tiempo de Dios. Ezequiel y el Evangelio según San Marcos nos recuerdan que nuestro trabajo y nuestros planes dependen de Dios. Porque Él toma nuestros pequeños esfuerzos y hace de ellos grandes obras. Pablo nos señala el tiempo de la "cosecha", nos insta a estar atentos a su cumplimiento y nos llama a reconocer que debemos dedicar nuestro tiempo a agradecer a Dios.

June 4, 2021

As of July 1, 2021, the general dispensation from the Sunday Mass obligation for the general public will cease. However, the dispensation from the Sunday Mass obligation remains in place for those at serious medical risk. Serious medical risk refers primarily to those with a chronic health condition, those providing direct care for the vulnerably ill, or those with a compromised immune system or other health condition that leaves them unable to be vaccinated.

In some respects, the language of "obligation" is unfortunate as it tends to speak of something unpleasant. Nevertheless, the language of obligation is not entirely inappropriate. Indeed, most cultures make obligatory those things that are deeply treasured, such as education for children. For faithful Catholics the primary motivation to participate in Sunday Mass should be a sincere desire to encounter Christ in the Eucharist and to gather in community. Many have said to our clergy that they have greatly missed participating at Mass in person. I pray that same holy longing is in each of our hearts.

Gathering in community to celebrate the Eucharist is a most serious matter, originating in the Commandments given by God to the Jewish people. The first Christians quickly recognized that all things were made new by the death and resurrection of Jesus. It was within this spirit that the Commandment to keep holy the Sabbath was transferred from the last day of the week (Saturday) to the day of Jesus' resurrection, the first day of the week (Sunday). Nevertheless, the obligation has never been without exception. Canon Law for the Roman Catholic Church notes that while Sundays are holy days of obligation, there always have been exceptions for people in serious situations. Not only the local bishop but also pastors can dispense members of their congregations from the Sunday Mass obligation for a proportionate reason.

As noted above, the current dispensation from Sunday Mass attendance remains in place for those at serious risk of the Covid-19 virus. This will require a prudent evaluation on the part of responsible Catholics. In traditional Catholic theology a prudent decision flows from a properly formed conscience. Those at serious risk should have a clear conscience in refraining from in-person gatherings of any kind at our churches. But those who are comfortable dining at restaurants, shopping for non-essentials, traveling, or engaging in other public activities would have no legitimate reason to claim the dispensation.

It also must be noted that the recent and creative uses of technology to serve the faithful have been a blessing. Many are truly unable to leave their homes or care facilities and they have found live-streamed, televised or internet Masses, holy hours, and other events to be a great spiritual comfort. While pastors are prudent to continue at least some of these services offered via technology in the future we must be careful not to allow this blessing to substitute for gathering around the altar of the Lord in person and receiving Christ sacramentally. The Judeo-Christian history is one of encountering God through actual lived community, and community is built and sustained through actual lived interaction with other believers. There is no tradition of privatized religion within Catholicism. The ease or convenience of religious offerings via television or the internet can never legitimately replace a lived experience of community. For this reason, the use of televised or internet liturgies can never replace in-person worship for those who are capable of participating in parish life. Moreover, to choose not to participate personally in Mass when we are capable of doing so is to deprive ourselves of the immeasurable spiritual graces that can be received only by active participation with others in the Mass.

Most Reverend Edward J. Weisenburger
Bishop of Tucson

4 de junio de 2021

A partir del 1 de julio de 2021, cesará la dispensa general de la obligación de la misa dominical para el público en general. Sin embargo, la dispensa de la obligación de la misa dominical sigue vigente para quienes se encuentran en grave riesgo médico. El riesgo médico grave se refiere principalmente a aquellos con una condición de salud crónica, aquellos que brindan atención directa a los vulnerables enfermos o aquellos con un sistema inmunológico comprometido u otra condición de salud que los deja sin poder vacunarse.

En algunos aspectos, el lenguaje de la "obligación" es desafortunado, ya que tiende a hablar de algo desagradable. Sin embargo, el lenguaje de la obligación no es del todo inapropiado. De hecho, la mayoría de las culturas hacen obligatorias aquellas cosas que se valoran profundamente, como la educación de los niños. Para los fieles católicos, la motivación principal para participar en la misa dominical debe ser un deseo sincero de encontrar a Cristo en la Eucaristía y de reunirse en comunidad. Muchos le han dicho a nuestro clero que han extrañado mucho su participación en la Misa en persona. Oro para que el mismo santo anhelo esté en cada uno de nuestros corazones.

Reunirse en comunidad para celebrar la Eucaristía es un asunto muy serio, que se origina en los Mandamientos dados por Dios al pueblo judío. Los primeros cristianos reconocieron rápidamente que todas las cosas fueron renovadas por la muerte y resurrección de Jesús. Fue dentro de este espíritu que el mandamiento de santificar el sábado fue transferido del último día de la semana (sábado) al día de la resurrección de Jesús, el primer día de la semana (domingo). Sin embargo, la obligación nunca ha sido sin excepción. El derecho canónico de la Iglesia Católica Romana señala que, si bien los domingos son días santos de obligación, siempre ha habido excepciones para personas en situaciones graves. No solo el obispo local, sino también los pastores pueden dispensar a los miembros de sus congregaciones de la obligación de la misa dominical por una razón proporcionada.

Como se señaló anteriormente, la dispensación actual de la asistencia a la misa dominical sigue vigente para quienes corren un riesgo grave de contraer el virus Covid-19. Esto requerirá una evaluación prudente por parte de católicos responsables. En la teología católica tradicional, una decisión prudente fluye de una conciencia debidamente formada. Quienes corren un riesgo grave deben tener la conciencia tranquila al abstenerse de reuniones en persona de cualquier tipo en nuestras iglesias. Pero aquellos que se sienten cómodos cenando en restaurantes, comprando artículos no esenciales, viajando o participando en otras actividades públicas no tendrían una razón legítima para reclamar la dispensa.

También debe tenerse en cuenta que los usos recientes y creativos de la tecnología para servir a los fieles han sido una bendición. Muchos son realmente incapaces de salir de sus hogares o centros de atención y han encontrado que las misas transmitidas en vivo, televisadas o por Internet, las horas santas y otros eventos son un gran consuelo espiritual. Si bien los pastores son prudentes en continuar al menos algunos de estos servicios ofrecidos a través de la tecnología en el futuro, debemos tener cuidado de no permitir que esta bendición sustituya a reunirse alrededor del altar del Señor en persona y recibir a Cristo sacramentalmente. La historia judeocristiana es una historia de encuentro con Dios a través de una comunidad vivida real, y la comunidad se construye y sostiene a través de la interacción vivida con otros creyentes. No hay tradición de religión privatizada dentro del catolicismo. La facilidad o conveniencia de las ofrendas religiosas a través de la televisión o Internet nunca podrá reemplazar legítimamente una experiencia de comunidad vivida. Por esta razón, el uso de liturgias televisadas o por Internet nunca puede reemplazar el culto en persona para aquellos que son capaces de participar en la vida parroquial. Además, optar por no participar personalmente en la Misa cuando somos capaces de hacerlo es privarnos de las inmensurables gracias espirituales que solo se pueden recibir mediante la participación activa con otros en la Misa.

Reverendísimo Edward J. Weisenburger
Obispo de Tucson

The Sacrament of Confirmation

Those who have been baptized continue on the path of Christian initiation through the sacrament of confirmation. In this sacrament they receive the Holy Spirit. This giving of the Holy Spirit conforms believers more fully to Christ and strengthens them so that they may bear witness to Christ. Guidelines:

- The candidates must have attained high school.
- Must be participating in a program of systematic catechesis either in the parish or a Catholic school.
- Must have a basic understanding of the Bible, the Creed, the sacraments, the Christian life and prayer.
- Participate in the sacrament life of the Church, especially Eucharistic liturgies.

Confirmation I Youth:

A large part of our vocation as Catholic Christians is to be of service to those that have less. Candidates will experience service in three areas; Family, Church and the wider Community. While social distancing has restricted the opportunity to serve the Church and the community, there is great opportunity to serve the family. Be creative. Your catechists are here for you; do not hesitate to contact us with any questions or concerns.

El Sacramento de la Confirmación

Aquellos que han sido bautizados, continúan en el camino de la iniciación cristiana a través del Sacramento de la Confirmación. En este Sacramento, reciben al Espíritu Santo. Este dar del Espíritu Santo conforma a los creyentes más plenamente a Cristo y los fortalece para que puedan dar testimonio de Cristo. Normas:

- Los candidatos deben haber alcanzado la preparatoria.
- Debe participar en un programa de catequesis sistemática, ya sea en la parroquia o en una escuela católica.
- Debe tener una comprensión básica de la Biblia, el Credo los Sacramentos, la vida Cristiana y oración.
- Participar en la vida sacramental de la iglesia, especialmente las liturgias Eucarísticas.

Jóvenes de Confirmación I:

Una gran parte de nuestra vocación como cristianos católicos es servir a los que tienen menos. Los candidatos experimentarán el servicio en tres áreas: Familia, Iglesia y la comunidad en general. Mientras que el distanciamiento social ha restringido la oportunidad de servir a la Iglesia y a la comunidad, existe una gran oportunidad para servir a la familia. Se creativo. Sus catequistas están aquí para ti, no dudes en ponerte en contacto con nosotros con cualquier pregunta o inquietud.
